FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RICHMOND, VA (November 2025) — Three Virginia campgrounds have been recognized among the nation's best as finalists in the 2025 Outdoor Hospitality Industry (OHI) Awards of Excellence. Anvil Campground in Williamsburg, Chincoteague Bay RV Resort and Cottages in Chincoteague, and Sun Outdoors Cape Charles in Cape Charles have each been named finalists for top honors celebrating innovation, sustainability, and operational excellence in the outdoor hospitality industry.

The OHI Awards of Excellence spotlight campgrounds and RV resorts across the U.S. and Canada that set new standards for guest experience, design, and leadership. Winners will be announced during the "Celebrate Innovation: The OHI Awards of Excellence Luncheon" on November 10, 2025, at the Outdoor Hospitality Conference & Expo (OHCE2025) in Louisville, Kentucky.

"These nominations shine a spotlight on the creativity and professionalism of Virginia's outdoor hospitality businesses," said Chris Jump, President of the Virginia Campground Association and owner of Anvil Campground. "Each of these parks demonstrates how innovation and guest service go hand-in-hand to make Virginia a destination for campers from across the country."

The annual OHI Awards recognize achievements in categories such as Park of the Year, Park Innovator of the Year, and Supplier of the Year, honoring businesses that exemplify excellence and advance the camping and RV industry.
